

Comprehensive Patent Insurance

Patent litigation risk is one of the most likely and costly forms of business risk facing companies today. Patent cases can be complex, expensive, and time-consuming to resolve. RPX's insurance solution minimizes the costs and operational burden of these cases.

- ✓ Policy coverage caps exposure to patent litigation costs—both legal and settlement
- ✓ Claims support reduces per case costs by ~60%
- ✓ Pre-litigation risk management support at no additional cost

A Solution for Every Level of Patent Risk

Emerging Risk

Designed for early-stage companies that are just starting to face patent risk.

Standard Protection

For companies that have already begun to face some threat of infringement litigation.

Volatility Risk

Coverage for companies facing variable frequency and spikes in patent litigation costs.

Indemnification

Allows technology providers to extend their infringement liability coverage to customers.

With RPX Patent Insurance, companies are covered when they are sued for patent infringement. Patent risk affects every company differently. That's why RPX has a solution tailored to each company's specific situation, need, and risk profile.
